Senator Jack M. Martins (R-7th Senate District) recently thanked Dan Gavin of Mineola for serving as a student intern in his district office this summer.

During his internship, Dan assisted Senator Martins and his staff with community programs, research, constituent services, and informational outreach. Dan is a student at Loyola University where he is pursuing a degree in economics and global studies.

“Dan is a bright young man who was a valuable asset to our office,” said Senator Martins. “My staff and I appreciate his hard work this summer and wish him all the best in the future.”
