

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Michael F. Nozzolio

Old Stone Schoolhouse Gets New Life As A Video Production Classroom

Michael F. Nozzolio

November 4, 2009

Image not found or type unknown

Union Springs - Senator Mike Nozzolio recently joined members of the Union Springs community to celebrate the official opening of the newly restored Stone Schoolhouse. Senator Nozzolio was instrumental in securing the New York State funding needed to refurbish the building which was on the verge of demolition. The building now houses a video production studio that gives students hands on experience and training.

Pictured left to right are Union Springs Board of Education members: Carol Quill, Christine Cuff, John Greer and Ted O'Hara, Senator Nozzolio; Superintendent Linda Rice, and Board members Anthony Tabone, and Ben Gavitt.