

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Betty Little

Medical Malpractice Focus of Senate Hearing

BETTY LITTLE December 8, 2009

| ISSUE: HEALTH CARE

State Senator Betty Little listens to the response of a question she posed during a New York State Senate hearing about medical malpractice reform. While the health care debate continues in Washington, D.C., Little and her colleagues are examining ways to control health care costs in New York State.

Little is pictured next to Sen. Neil Breslin of Albany during the December 1 hearing in the state Capital.
