As the school year draws to a close, students naturally turn their thoughts to summer vacation and time away from books! It is important, though, to keep school age children in the mindset of learning. For this reason, the New York State Senate has partnered with the New York State Library to offer you the 2010 Summer Reading Program, a fun and exciting way to keep students in the fourth through sixth grades reading while on break through the summer months. This year's theme is "Make a Splash...Read!"

We hope you'll visit the New York State Library's Summer Reading page for information on the 2010 Summer Reading Program. There you'll find fun activities and games promoting literacy and keeping children's minds active during the summer months.
