September Constituent of the Month - Save Our Streets Crown Heights (S.O.S)

ERIC ADAMS August 31, 2012

Save Our Streets Crown Heights (S.O.S.) is a project of the Crown Heights Community Mediation Center and the Center for Court Innovation. This community-based effort strives to stop shootings and killings in our neighborhood. Working with the community, highly trained workers:

- mediate high risk conflicts and provide immediate interventions whenever a shooting occurs
- act as positive role models and peer counselors to men and women who are at risk of perpetrating or being victimized by violence
- reach out to the victims, friends and family members
- work to ensure that retaliatory shootings do not take place
- create a community network of clergy, residents, and business owners
- promote a visible and public message against gun violence and encourage local voices to articulate that shooting is an unacceptable behavior
- organize youth to mobilize their peers against gun violence as part of the Youth Organizing to Save Our Streets program.
