

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Catharine Young

Jenn Suhr is introduced prior to the start of her record-setting pole vault in Fredonia.

Catharine Young

September 26, 2012

Everyone was very excited that on Saturday, Sept. 22, 2012, Olympic Gold Medalist Jenn Suhr returned to Fredonia to demonstrate her pole-vaulting skills for her hometown community. In the process, she set a world record for the highest jump for the year. She cleared 4.83 meters which is slightly more than 15 feet, 10 inches.