

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Catharine Young

Senator Young honors James Gallman for his years of service.

CATHARINE YOUNG November 29, 2012

| ISSUE: VETERANS

Senator Young was pleased to honor James Gallman for his years of service at an event this week in Allegany County. James Gallman served with the National Guard from 1966-1973, then later became an Allegany County Legislator and a Board of Elections Commissioner.

Senator Young presented him with a New York State Long and Faithful Service Ribbon and a framed companion certificate announcing the award signed by Maj. Gen. Murphy, the state Adjutant General. There was also a personal letter from the general to Lieutenant Gallman.