

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Brad Hoylman-Sigal

Making the Case for Comprehensive Campaign Finance Reform

BRAD HOYLMAN March 4, 2013

Ending Albany's "pay-to-play" culture through comprehensive campaign finance reform was a core theme of my candidacy. Two months into my tenure in the State Senate, the imperative to implement a system that includes public financing, matched contributions and lower contribution limits for candidates for state offices is clearer to me than ever. Please click here to see my op-ed on the topic, "Reform Albany's Campaign Finance System," which appeared in last week's The Villager newspaper.