"One Simple Step Can Change a Child's Life" Campaign

ERIC ADAMS April 3, 2013

Senator Eric Adams and the Child Abuse Prevention Program (CAPP) are teaming up during April's National Child Abuse Prevention Month to remind New Yorkers to take action when it comes to child abuse and neglect. Through this partnership, they created a campaign entitled "One Simple Step Can Change a Child's Life," which urges anyone who suspects or learns of child abuse to call the N.Y.S. Child Abuse Hotline at 1 (800) 342-3720. Reporting abuse is a simple yet vital first step in getting a child help and keeping them safe.
