Naiades Oncology Rowing Launches 'Spirit'

JOSEPH E. ROBACH April 16, 2013

| ISSUE: HEALTH, WOMEN'S HEALTH

On Saturday, I had the privilege to speak at a ceremony hosted by Naiades Oncology Rowing to launch their newest boat. The group is a rowing organization started to help women who have staged the courageous and tough fight against cancer, or who are currently undergoing treatment and are fighting the terrible disease. Their newest boat is named 'Spirit'. For more information on this great group, visit their website at <http://www.naiadesoncologyrowing.com/>.
