Supporting Free Kayaking in Hudson River Park

BRAD HOYLMAN December 23, 2013

In response to the Hudson River Park Trust's recent request for proposals for several of the park's public boathouses, I wrote to encourage the Trust to maintain free public kayaking programming at Piers 26 and 96. In a city with limited opportunities for people to interact with nature in a meaningful and healthy way, I urged the Trust to continue to make kayaking available to New Yorkers and visitors regardless of economic status. Please see my letter below.
