On Thursday, April 10th, Senator Stewart-Cousins got a quick tour of the Shmura Matzah Bakery in Brooklyn, NY.

"Tonight, Jewish families around New York will gather together at the Seder table to recount the liberation of earlier generations, while ushering in the renewal of Spring and recommitting themselves to lift up the hungriest in our community. I want to extend my best wishes to all who observe Passover for a Zissen Pesach -- a Sweet Passover -- filled with the warmth of family and friends joining together in celebration of freedom's enduring promise."
