

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Dean G. Skelos

Senator Skelos attends the State of New York Police Officers Memorial Service

DEAN G. SKELOS May 21, 2014

Each day men and women throughout New York State put on their uniforms in order to protect and serve our communities. Earlier this month it was an honor to pay respect to those individuals who paid the ultimate sacrifice in the line of duty at the State of New York Police Officers Memorial. Although they are no longer with us, their names and legacies will live on for generations to come. Thank you all for your service and dedication to protecting the citizens of New York.
