Small Biz Reg Watch vol 1, Issue 5

Terrence P. Murphy

May 19, 2015

Dear Neighbor,

Below are this week's featured regulations. Remember, you can always check out the ARRC website for a more comprehensive list of rules and regulations from both the federal and state government.

As a small business owner, I know firsthand how the miles of red tape can strangle the life out of any business. The goal of the small business regulatory watch is to make our state and federal government more transparent and business friendly. I encourage you to speak out against any of the proposed rules and regulations you see that may adversely impact your individual business or field.

If I or my staff can ever be of help please do not hesitate to contact us.

Wishing you the best,

Dr. Terrence P. Murphy

This Week's Featured Regulations

Federal Register, Volume 80, Issue 64, April 3, 2015:

- Allocation of Controlled Group Research
  - The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is issuing temporary regulations providing guidance to taxpayers that claim the controlled group research credit.
  - These temporary regulations pertain to the allocation of the credit for increasing research activities to corporations and trades or business under common control.
  - This proposal will also affect the railroad track maintenance credit and the election for a reduced research credit.
  - If requested, the IRS will schedule a public hearing regarding this rule change.
  - Please send comments to Internal Revenue Service, PO Box 7604, Ben Franklin Station, Washington DC 20044 or electronically www.regulations.gov.

Federal Register, Volume 80, Issue 67, April 8, 2015:

- Petition Requesting Rulemaking to Amend the Standard for the Flammability of Clothing Textiles
  - The Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is requesting public comments regarding a petition that it received, to amend the test procedure in the Standard for the Flammability of Clothing Textiles, 16 CFR Part 1610.
  - The International Association of Users of Artificial and Synthetic Filament Yarns and of Natural Silk has petitioned for changes to “pre-test conditioning requirements” for flammability testing of textiles.
  - The petitioner claims that current requirements are inappropriate and unrealistic of silk fabrics and has requested that the standard for all textile samples, including silk, be changed to a lower temperature at a higher level of humidity.
  - Public comments must be submitted to June 8, 2015.

- ↪ For further information, or to submit a comment, reference Docket No. CPSC-2015-0007 and contact Rocky Hammond, Office of the Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission, 4330 East West Highway, Bethesda, MD 20814; (301) 504-6833; email rhammond@cpsc.gov.
