Community-Based Organizations and NYS OASAS Come Together

JESSE HAMILTON November 20, 2015

| ISSUE: YOUTH, EDUCATION, COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT, COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

I hosted a valuable meeting of several community-based organizations and the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services yesterday. Groups involved included the NYC Department of Education, Bridging Access to Care, the Crown Heights Jewish Community Council, the Crown Heights Service Center, and the National Society for Hebrew Day Schools. Thanks to all the participants, I look forward to following through with the preliminary action plan we arrived at through meeting.
