Senator Mike Nozzolio recently met with students from Houghton College during their visit to the State Capitol. The group met with Senator Nozzolio to discuss the Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) funding for higher education.

“Nothing is more important than our children's education and we must do all possible to assist those wishing to pursue a degree in higher education,” said Senator Nozzolio. “It was a pleasure to meet with these exceptional students and to speak with them about options for funding higher education.”
