New York State Senator Mike Nozzolio recently met with Ryan Mulhern, Wayne County Public Health Educator, at the State Capitol. During his visit to Albany, Ryan was presented with the “Tobacco-Free Community Champion” award, given by the Tobacco Action

Coalition of the Finger Lakes, a partner of the American Lung Association of the Northeast.

“Teaching our youth healthy habits early on will help them to live longer and happier lives as adults,” said Senator Nozzolio. “It was a pleasure to meet with and congratulate Ryan on his outstanding leadership and dedication to teaching children in our community about the dangers of tobacco use.”
