Meeting with the ALS Association

ANDREA STEWART-COUSINS March 8, 2016

(Albany - March 8th) Always good to see Yonkers native Pat Quinn of Quinn for the Win. He came to Albany with his father and members of the ALS Association to advocate for a cure for Lou Gehrig's Disease. Its been three years to the day since he was diagnosed with the disease, and he continues his inspirational fight for a cure. Pat helped the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge go viral in 2014, raising millions of dollars for research.
