In recognition of his staunch support of working families and the labor industry in the Finger Lakes Region, State Senator Michael F. Nozzolio was recently honored by the Rochester & Genesee Valley Labor Federation. The Federation represents 100,000 union members in an 11 county area. Their mission is to help promote the good will of their affiliates and support legislation that improves the lives of hardworking families.

“It is an honor to receive this recognition and I commend the Rochester & Genesee Valley Labor Federation for their continued advocacy on behalf of our local families and all workers within our wonderful region,” said Senator Nozzolio. “I look forward to our continued partnership in an effort to support the efforts of hard working men and women from across the Finger Lakes.”

“My special thanks to President Dan Maloney for this award and the entire Rochester & Genesee Valley Labor Federation for their years of support and friendship,” continued Senator Nozzolio. “The labor federation is one of the largest contributors to our local economy and I am greatly honored to have worked with them,” concluded Senator Nozzolio.
