ALBANY, 05/17/16 -- State Senator James L. Seward (R/C/I – Oneonta) today announced the release of a special report from the Joint Senate Task Force on Heroin and Opioid Addiction. The report included 48 legislative and budgetary recommendations to help fight the heroin and opioid abuse epidemic. A bill sponsored by Senator Seward (S.2346) that would offer an incentive to employers who hire recovering addicts was part of the package.

“Heroin addiction devastates lives, families, and communities and it is vital that we continue to target this epidemic from all angles - prevention, treatment, recovery, and enforcement,” said Senator Seward. “My bill in particular, would help individuals in recovery as they take steps to rebuild their lives and overcome the stigma of drug addiction.”

Senator Seward has served on the Joint Senate Task Force on Heroin and Opioid Addiction since its inception in 2014 and has hosted two task force forums, including one in Oneonta earlier this year, to solicit input from local health care professionals, addiction experts, law enforcement officials, and concerned citizens.

“The senate task force has helped call attention to the heroin epidemic and a number of new laws have been enacted to improve treatment options, educate the public about this community scourge, and aid law enforcement officials. However, the tragedies continue so we cannot waver and must move forward with additional actions like those included in the senate report,” added Seward.

Senator Seward’s bill (S.2346) will provide a tax credit to employers who agree to hire individuals who have either graduated from drug court or have successfully complete a judicial diversion program.

“A job is more than just a paycheck for someone in recovery. It is a symbol of self-worth and a validation that others have confidence in your abilities. Employment is also a key incentive that will help motivate an addict to stay clean. By offering this tax credit, I am hopeful that more employers will show faith in individuals who have earned a second chance,” said Seward.

Overall, the senate report incorporates testimony and recommendations from nine forums held during 2015-16 to develop prevention, treatment, recovery, and enforcement initiatives.

“Heroin and opioid addiction is a public health crisis and no one is immune to the crippling effects of this epidemic. New laws already enacted are helping, but we continue to identify gaps in service and other needs that must be addressed. I am hopeful the assembly will join the senate and approve the lifesaving measures included in this special report before the end of the legislative session so they can be sent to the governor for his consideration,” Seward concluded.

BUDGETARY RECOMMENDATIONS:

The report highlighted this year's state budget commitment of $166 million for heroin and opioid crisis, treatment, outpatient, and residential services. Due to advocacy by the Senate's Task Force members, the budget included an increase of $25 million above the Executive Budget's original proposal.

The report recommends that this additional $25 million would support: Family Support Navigator and Navigator training programs; On-Call Peer programs; Adolescent Clubhouses to provide safe and welcoming spaces for teens; Recovery

Community and Outreach Centers; Recovery Coach peer mentoring programs; a “Combat Heroin” Public Service Campaign; Opioid Overdose Prevention program; Opioid Medication Treatment program; Transitional Housing Opportunities; Local Government Unit Block Grants; School Resource Officer Training programs; and a Wraparound Services Demonstration Program.
