O'Hara became Our Lady of Angels' third pastor and immediately turned his attention towards the monumental task of building a bigger and better church, initiating construction on April 13, 1928, and setting the cornerstone on December 9, 1928; and

Donnelly and Peter L. Altman; and

WHEREAS, Monsignor James M. Cavanaugh, Our Lady of Angels' eighth pastor, presided over an era in which the number of parishioners began to noticeably decrease due to an aging population and the inability of young families to afford Bay Ridge's escalating real estate prices; and
