BRONX, NY –State Senator Jeff Klein (D-Bronx/Westchester) hosted a children's festival as part of his Summertime Symphonies Series at Soundview Park on Saturday.

Local families gathered to enjoy the celebration, which began with lunch and a variety of arts and crafts activities. The excitement continued as face painters brushed elaborate designs on children's faces and balloons were twisted into animals for attendees. Children also danced to pop music throughout the day and played in the bouncy house.

“I am thrilled to host this children’s festival for the community at Soundview Park. Today, we enjoyed quality time with our families and friends and created lasting memories during this fun-filled day,” said Senator Klein.
