Senator Serrano as well as other elected officials gathered at the New York Botanical Garden for their Annual Holiday Christmas Tree and Menorah Lighting. Excited guests had an opportunity to watch the Garden's Holiday Train Show, as well as enjoying holiday carols performed by Celia Cruz Bronx High School of Music.

"The holiday season in New York City is truly such a beautiful time of year. I was honored to ring in this year's season with The New York Botanical Garden alongside Assemblyman Jeffrey Dinowitz, Council member Andrew Cohen & Congressman José E. Serrano. The Holiday Train Show and amazing performances by Celia Cruz Bronx High School of Music truly captured the cultural essence of the Bronx, while setting the tone for a cheerful time of year. Thank you, New York Botanical Garden, for allowing me to be a part of such an exciting ceremony once again."
