BROOKLYN, NY (12/12/16) – On Saturday, December 10, State Senator Kevin Parker and Natasha Wilson of NOW Productions hosted a Christmas Party for Kids at the Flatbush YMCA. Over 300 toys were given away at the event and attendees enjoyed live entertainment, holiday games, food and fun raffles. Members of the community donated toys for the event and came together to ensure the children were able to have a memorable holiday party.

Excited by being able to bring everyone together for such a great cause, Senator Parker said, “For most families, the holidays can be a very exciting but expensive time. It is important that I do my part to ensure children within my district and surrounding areas are able to enjoy their holiday season with gifts and fun festive holiday activities,” he added. “In addition, I applaud members of the community for donating toys, I thank Natasha Wilson and the NOW Productions team for their continuous commitment to the community,” the Brooklyn lawmaker concluded.

“Since 2014, NOW Production prides itself on inspiring and giving back to the youth of Central Brooklyn. This year we have joined with State Senator Kevin Parker to continue serving the community with our annual Christmas Extravaganza,” said Natasha Wilson, CEO of Now Productions. “Each year we look forward to expanding our events and servicing more people in the community”
