State Senator Gustavo Rivera Hosts A Day Of Action In Response To The Inauguration of Donald Trump

GUSTAVO RIVERA January 19, 2017

| ISSUE: PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION, DAY OF ACTION

Bronx, NY - State Senator Gustavo Rivera in partnership with Planned Parenthood of New York City, Citizen Action of New York, Saint Barnabas, Montefiore Health System, the Teen Health Center and the Committee for Hispanic Children & Families, Inc. will hold a Day of Action on Friday, January 20th from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm at the intersection of Grand Concourse and Fordham Road. This day of action is in direct response to the inauguration of Donald Trump as the 45th President of the United States.

Senator Rivera will use this Day of Action as a way to directly interact with his constituents and to have a honest conversation about the potential challenges facing our communities in the era of Trump. Additionally, the participating organizations and his office's staff will distribute important information about the variety of services and resources available to them to help address issues they may be facing, whether they concern women's reproductive and health rights to the criminal justice system, among many others.

Furthermore, with this Day of Action Senator Rivera will reaffirm his support towards all those organizations that provide vital services to his constituents and face an uncertain future due to the potential actions by the incoming administration and the Republican-led Congress. Senator Rivera will be taking this opportunity to reassure his community that both as an elected official and as an American he is committed to protecting and defending the rights and dignity of his fellow Bronxites and Americans against any attempt by the federal government to infringe upon them.

Senator Rivera invites all members of the community to join his office's efforts and demonstrate to the federal government that the 33rd District is united and ready to defend their rights and neighbors against any injustice.
