Senator Elaine Phillips (R-Manhasset) recently served as a guest reader to students in Ms. Gervino's second grade class at Munsey Park Elementary School in Manhasset.

Senator Phillips took part in the school's "Guess Who's Coming to Read" program, an annual event where community members read to children in grades K-3. As per tradition, children do not know who their class' guest reader will be until he or she walks into the classroom, helping to get them even more excited about the event. Senator Phillips is a past-President of the Munsey Park School Community Association and former coordinator of Munsey Park's "Guess Who's Coming to Read" program.

Senator Phillips is pictured reading Born to Read by Judy Sierra to students in Ms. Gervino's second grade class at Munsey Park Elementary School.
