Important Contact Information for a Snow Storm

KEMP HANNON January 4, 2018

| ISSUE: EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

With current forecasts predicting 5-7" of snow for Nassau County, I wanted to provide you with important emergency phone numbers and Red Cross safety information.

It is also important to note that any deviation in the storm track to the west can produce much heavier snow totals. You can check the expected snowfall totals from the National Weather Service here. Always follow National Weather Service guidance as they are the official source for weather related information.
