Sen. Valesky met with Matthew Honeywell on March 6. Honeywell is an honor society student from Onondaga Community College who was named to the All-New York Academic team. Honeywell is a 1989 graduate of West Genesee High School and a veteran of the United States Navy. He earned a degree in Human Services in December and is now enrolled at SUNY Oswego. He is working to become a therapist for children in foster care, adopted children, and their families. He also helped create a human trafficking prevention program in Syracuse, training hotel staff in how to spot and stop human trafficking.
