ELAINE PHILLIPS July 9, 2018

Senator Elaine Phillips recently attended the Williston Park Fire Department's annual Independence Day Parade. The parade included a ceremony at the Williston Park Fire Department headquarters where former Fire Chief Richard Sais, the parade's grand marshal, was honored.

"Independence Day is a time to enjoy quality time with family, but it is also a time to reflect on the freedoms and liberties we have as Americans and remember the sacrifices that make them possible," Senator Phillips said. "It was an honor to march in the Williston Park Fire Department's annual Independence Day Parade. Thank you to Chief John Perro and the entire department for inviting me."
