BY: M. of A. Barrett

MEMORIALIZING Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim May 15-31, 2021, as Cider Week in the State of New York

WHEREAS, It is the custom of this Legislative Body to recognize official weeks that are set aside to promote and appreciate New York State's natural resources which benefit the lives of its citizens; and

WHEREAS, Attendant to such concern, and in full accord with its long-standing traditions, this Legislative Body is justly proud to memorialize Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim May 15-31, 2021, as Cider Week in the State of New York; and

WHEREAS, Cider Week in New York brings people together and creates connections to celebrate and promote New York cider in an exciting way; in 2021, Cider Week will be observed with a myriad of events throughout the entire state including two Cider Week festivals with the first held in the spring from May 15-31, 2021, and the second held in the fall from October 2-17, 2021; and

WHEREAS, Cider Week New York 2021 will feature 37 of New York's finest cider producers and will include a hybrid mix of both virtual and in-person events including special flights, virtual tastings, local events, panels, and dinners where individuals can be kept safe and appropriately socially distanced; and

WHEREAS, Directly tied to New York's agricultural cash crop of apples, cider in New York has seen an unprecedented growth explosion of over 450% over the past 10 years and now has a $1.6 billion economic impact to the State's economy; with over 140 producers making over five million gallons of cider every year, New York continues to rank first in the country for the number of cider producers; and

WHEREAS, The Glynwood Center for Regional Food and Farming, a non-profit organization serving food and farming changemakers from New York's Hudson Valley and beyond, launched the inaugural Cider Week in 2010 as an outcome of a travel exchange between French and American cider producers; and

WHEREAS, Distinctive products like hard cider evoke a local food culture and sense of place that is closely tied to agriculture in addition to garnering more profit for farmers; recognizing these opportunities while addressing the still-real obstacles faced by our farming community, Glynwood's goal was to foster a cider market in the Hudson Valley as the linchpin in a chain of positive social, environmental, economic and community benefits; and

WHEREAS, After over 10 years of successful growth, Cider Weeks in New York are now a production of the New York Cider Association, and continue to cultivate an appreciation for New York's orchard-based cider by showcasing New York cider's diversity, food-friendliness, and excellent quality in cider production; and

WHEREAS, It is with great pleasure that this Legislative Body acknowledges this exceptional natural resource and its contributions to the local and State economies; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That this Legislative Body pause in its deliberations to memorialize Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim May 15-31, 2021, as Cider Week in the State of New York; and be it further
