Today my Senate GOP Colleagues and I unveiled our End the Exodus Economic Plan to restore New York's economic future, expand opportunity, and deliver affordability. We have seen what the results of one-party rule have been for our state: in just the last year, 300,000 people have said goodbye to New York thanks to our burdensome taxes, onerous regulations, and crushing cost of living. Our plan calls for the state to roll back these burdens on families and small businesses. Please read my full statement in the attached document.
