State Senator Joseph P. Addabbo, Jr. is once again holding an in-person Job Fair this fall at Resorts World NYC after going virtual during the COVID-19 pandemic, and he wants your company to be a part of it for free.

This year's Job Fair will take place on Friday, November 18, at Resorts World NYC located at 110-00 Rockaway Boulevard, South Ozone Park, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Addabbo's office will be inviting companies, organizations, recruiters, and agencies from across the Tri-State area to participate in this Job Fair, free of charge.

Each company who registers will have an assigned table with chairs and may also request access to a power source. During the event job seekers will be able to walk around the event space and interact with each table.

Over the years, through wonderful partnerships with hundreds of local businesses, major national corporations and Resorts World, these events have helped connect thousands of New Yorkers with steady employment, ultimately helping to boost the overall health of our borough, city and state.

“As we continue to make our way back from the worst of the COVID pandemic, there are still plenty of people looking for work, and companies in need of employees. My Job Fair is the perfect place to bring those two groups together,” Addabbo said. “This is an exciting opportunity for businesses to come discover the bright, eager workers this Job Fair has to offer. By bringing together these job seekers and employers we hope to create an even stronger workforce and economy.”

If you or your business are interested in participating as a vendor at the Job Fair, please do not hesitate to reach out to Sean McCabe at Senator Addabbo’s office who will provide you with additional information as well as an application form to fill out and return. McCabe can be reached through email at smccabe@nysenate.gov or by phone at 718-497-1630. Employers can also visit the Senator’s webpage to find the Vendor Application Form to complete and return to his office:
