

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR
Rachel May

Senator Rachel May Invites New York Cideries to Albany

DAN MESSINEO May 9, 2023

| ISSUE: HARD CIDER, CIDERIES

Senator Rachel May invited cideries from across New York to Albany to set up for cider tastings in the lobby of the Legislative Office Building. The goal was to introduce the cideries and their product to legislators while highlighting Senator May's cider shipping bill. New York is one of a few states prohibiting cideries from shipping products directly to consumers. Senator May's bill, S1999, would change that by allowing cideries to send their product to customers, attracting new customers and boosting sales.

2023-S1999

- Introduced
- - In Committee Assembly
 - In Committee Senate
- - On Floor Calendar Assembly
 - On Floor Calendar Senate
- - Passed Assembly
 - Passed Senate
- Delivered to Governor
- Signed By Governor
-

Relates to direct interstate and intrastate cider shipments

January 18, 2023

In Assembly Committee

Sponsored by Rachel May

Do you support this bill?