Community Resource Book

“A Reference Guide to Brooklyn”
2012

Dear Friends:

Our community is a rich and vibrant place to live, work and play. We have some of the finest educational institutions, libraries and cultural activities in New York right here in our own backyard. In addition, our community is a community of good neighbors. There are many community-based organizations that provide information, housing services, after school programs, food to those in need and a wide variety of other services.

I am very proud of the number of activities, programs and services available in our community. However, it can be confusing and frustrating to receive information about exactly what is available. What time does the library close? Is there an after school program in my neighborhood? Where can I receive help making ends meet?

To help answer questions about what services, institutions and community organizations are available, I am delighted to present you with this helpful and informative booklet. It contains telephone numbers and addresses for service organizations, libraries, community groups, institutions such as police precincts, firehouses and hospitals.

I hope that you find this information useful. In addition, you may always feel free to contact my office at any time. My staff and I are ready to assist you with any questions, concerns or problems you may have.

Sincerely,

John
