UPDATE FROM STATE SENATOR LEE M. ZELDIN

THE 2012 NEW JOBS-NY JOB CREATION PLAN

AN UPDATE FROM SENATOR LEE M. ZELDIN

Last year, I worked with Governor Andrew Cuomo to reduce spending, cut income taxes, and roll back the MTA Payroll Tax. The next key step we must take is reducing broad-based business taxes. That's why my new plan includes:

- ➔ A new tax rate cut for small businesses from 6.5% to 5.2% -- an overall reduction of 20%. This tax cut would apply to thousands of Long Island employers.
- ➔ A major new energy tax cut -- slashing the notorious 18-A surcharge on utility bills.
- ➔ A 2% cap on state spending, and a moratorium on new taxes and fees.
- ➔ The Hire-Now-NY proposal, which includes direct incentives to encourage businesses to begin hiring again. For each new job they create, a business would get a major tax credit. This tax credit will be even larger if the job goes to someone on unemployment.

New York is on the track to prosperity once again. With the New Jobs-NY Plan, we will continue the progress of the past year and build towards a better future for all New Yorkers.
