

Earth Day!

By: Elexis Toner

The grass is green and the water is blue
But it makes me sad to see people don't care but some do
And we do the best we can to make the world a better place
We stop trees from getting cut down
We clean the water of the oil
We protest, help, save animals, and replant
We'll do the very best we can to protect the world because The Earth is beautiful and magical and people don't realize what they're doing is harming the world and harming us
So save the world to save us and animals, because we care!

THE WORLD MATTERS!
