

Earth, Oh sweet Earth

By Sophia Llanos

I know this isn't fair to treat you without any care
I cannot bare to see you in despair
Earth, you're more sad than bad
I may have to use glue because you're breaking in two
The electricity isn't as easy
I wish you can stay with me for each day
The sky is blue as a brand new screw
Every time you spin you hold a bin filled with rocks that hit you with a grin
As you're set upon the screen, you look extremely green
I used to admire you without all that fire
Earth, oh sweet Earth