

I believe that our society is having a big change and I believe that environmental degradation is causing a big effect in environmental change, environmental degradation is a deterioration, the environment through the depletion of the resources is such a quality of air, the water, soil; and the destruction of the ecosystems; the habitats destruction; and the extinction of the wildlife; and the pollution.

I believe that environmental degradation is a major contributor to climate change since forests absorb the carbon dioxide destroying them also limits nature's ability to keep emission out of the atmosphere also it connects to a lot of stuff like overfishing and it also causes a lot of destruction and disruption it also can cause a lot of natural disaster and it can also cause extinction wildlife and it is defined to have disturbance.

Deforestation, overgrazing, pollution, and climate change are all a part of environmental degradation and can lead to decreased crops, yields and water shortages and it also makes depletion deleterious and undesirable and massive erosion fish stocks and the multiple forms of many other things and everything that and it also affects fossil fuels and overpopulation, but the fossil fuels are not normal because their burning fossil fuels and I hope this help the environment.
