

Importance of Recycling and waste reduction in schools

The importance of recycling .

Students and staff can practice recycling reusable materials by collecting glass bottles and plastic cans throughout the week.

By recycling, you are reducing the risk of plastic ending up in the streets and the ocean. Believe it or not, recycling has many benefits.

You can save the lives of many sea creatures and help the earth go green .

You can also turn in plastic bottles for money and donate it to schools so the money can go towards kids who need more supplies and can't afford it.

Waste reduction

- Reducing the amount of water and energy we use can also benefit the earth in many ways. When you aren't in your room, turn the lights off. If you're brushing your teeth or showering and you aren't using the water at the moment, shut it off. This can also save the earth because you are reducing energy use .
