

Testimony for the Assembly Committee on Health
Public Hearing on
"The New York Health Act"

November 25, 2019
Kingston, NY

Chairmen Gottfried and Rivera and other honorable members of the assembly and senate health committees, thank you for conducting public hearings on this very important issue. My name is Lizette Edge I am a family practice trained physician. I would like to share some of my experiences and in so doing, I am urging the legislature to adopt the proposed "New York Health Act" (A5248, 53577).

From a young age my dream was to be a primary care doctor. I wanted to help people, build a community of patients and their families, and provide the best possible care to keep everyone healthy. I naturally gravitated towards Family Practice. I was very excited about residency, a time to refine my skills and become a great primary care doctor. What I had not expected is that residency would be the time where my vision of what it was like to be a primary care doctor would be shattered. When I realized how broken our health system truly is.

I can remember the day that as an intern I was put on the phone with the health insurance company to get prior approval for a test that was urgently needed for my patients health. The test was being denied, the insurance company would not cover the cost. I was shocked that they were valuing profit over what was needed for my patient based on medical necessity.

I then had to tell my patient that despite the fact that they needed this test they would not be able to get it at that time, unless they were able to pay out of pocket. The look of helpless bewilderment in my patients eyes computered what is wrong with this system, that wealthy insurance industry were calling the shots instead of medical professionals. We appealed the decision and embarked on the paperwork required immediately, but all this would take time. Ultimately my patient was scared and worried their symptoms got worse, and they eventually ended up in the emergency department to get the test they needed, costing the system much more.

This was my first lesson of many where I would be wasting precious patient time negotiating with numerous insurance companies. According to a study done by the AMA on the prior authorization process 91% of physicians reported that there was a significant negative impact on patient clinical outcomes.

Over and over again, I was put in positions where the health of my patients was being compromised all in the name of corporate profits. This is a system that is beholden to the insurance companies and not my patients.

This whole experience was so profoundly disturbing that I ultimately opted out of primary care.

Now, as a hospitalist I get to see plenty of other aspects of our broken system. So many patients are un-insured or underinsured and they avoid seeking care because they can't afford copays and high deductibles and so again once they are very ill they end up in the ER, again costing the system more money. In regard to the lack of comprehensive care, so many times I have admitted patients with sepsis related to an infected tooth. Because they could not afford dental insurance, they delayed care. What was a simple cavity, becomes a serious systemic illness. Issues with affordability of Long term care and end of life care is another major failing in the current system. Just the other day, I admitted a 90 something year old patient from a rehab facility after a hip fracture. They were improving, but not fast enough. They had just received notice that the insurance company was no longer paying for the bill, as a result the patient had an anxiety attack that made them sicker and they ended up back in the hospital under my care. I could give so many examples of how we are failing our patients and community because the current profit driven system is failing them.

The single payer system would fix many of these problems. It would relieve some of the causes of burnout for physicians, and more would want to stay in primary care. Under the New York health act People would be able to seek primary care before complications lead to costs and ailments that destroy lives.

The single payer system would allow our elderly patients to have some level of comfort and dignity at the end of their life knowing that they will be cared for, not having to worry about overburdening their loved ones.

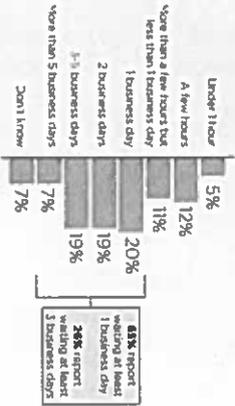

I urge you, please, to not wait any longer, pass this legislation, so that we can have a just, equitable, comprehensive system for all New Yorkers. A system that puts people over profits. And lastly, as someone who came to this country undocumented, in part due to violent US foreign policy in Colombia, I would be remiss not to add how important it is to me that the New York Health Act be for all New Yorkers, regardless of immigration status. Thank you for listening and once the New York Health act is a reality I look forward to going back to primary care.
