1072	Maziarz		Commerce, Economic Development and Small Business

The President put the question whether the Senate would agree to said motions and it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Farrell and Mr. Oaks were a committee of two from the Assembly saying the Assembly was organized, and that Mr. Silver was elected Speaker of the Assembly for the years 2013-2014, and the Assembly was ready to do business, and would meet with the Senate at 1:30 P.M. For the purpose of hearing the annual message for the Governor.

Senator Skelos moved that the Senate do now adjourn.

The President put the question whether the Senate would agree to said motion and it was decided in the affirmative.

Whereupon, pursuant to the resolution heretofore adopted, the Senate adjourned.

Thursday, January 10, 2013

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Marchione in the chair, upon designation of the Temporary President.

The Journal of Wednesday, January 9, 2013 was read and approved.

The following was a message received from the Governor

Statement of Pardons, Commutations and Reprieves Granted During the year 2013:

STATE OF NEW YORK
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

2013

To the Legislature:

As required by the Constitution and Laws of the State of New York, I am transmitting herein a statement of the pardons, commutations and reprieves granted during the year two thousand nine.

ANDREW M. CUOMO
GOVERNOR

PARDONS

The individual listed below was granted a pardon on December 31, 2013.

Gerardo Alvarez, 49, of Lake Peekskill, was convicted in 2002 of seventh-degree criminal possession of a controlled substance in New York County. The charge stemmed from a traffic stop with a co-worker, where cocaine was found in the car. Alvarez was sentenced to three days of community service and a six-month suspension of his driver's license after pleading guilty. Although a lawful permanent resident, Alvarez was detained for several months in 2010 upon trying to reenter the United States after a vacation with his wife and was subjected to deportation procedures. The case was ultimately resolved without deportation in July 2013. Alvarez was born in Mexico and has been living in the United States since 1980. He has been married to a U.S. citizen since 1986, and has two children attending college. He has had the same employer for 25 years, been active in his community and his church, and seeks to become a U.S. citizen.

Seymore Hunter, 70, of Manhattan, was convicted in 1994 in Kings County of third-degree attempted sale of a controlled substance. Hunter was homeless and battling a substance addiction. He was sentenced to a day in jail and five years' probation. Hunter entered a rehabilitation program. He successfully completed the program and his probation, and, for the last 12 years, he has been working for a non-profit organization that seeks to eliminate homelessness, where he is a administrator at a building that provides housing for elderly, low income professionals, and those battling HIV and AIDS. Born in Jamaica, Hunter has been a permanent resident in the United States for 44 years and seeks to become a U.S. citizen.

Rocco Paciello, 49, of Clinton, was convicted in 1988 of statutory rape. The charge against Paciello, then 22, stemmed from a complaint made by parents of his then 15 year-old girlfriend, who he was dating with her parents' consent. He was sentenced to eight days in jail and 5 years' probation. Following his early release from probation, Paciello married his girlfriend, and have remained married for 21 years. In 1987, he joined the National Guard and later became a full-time active duty soldier, which he remained until his retirement in 2007. He has been active in his community and his church, and is currently a college honors student. His petition for a pardon came with letters of support from both his in-laws, who expressed great regret about filing the original charges, his wife, their two children, ages 18 and 25, his pastor, his sister-in-law, friends, and colleagues from the national guard.
