

Women of DISTINCTION

HONORING WOMEN IN NEW YORK

Kadie Curry

Kadie Curry is the Site Director of Nursing for Patient Care Services at Catholic Health-Mount St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston. In her tenth year with Catholic Health, Ms. Curry has held various positions at Mount St. Mary's, Kenmore Mercy and Mercy Hospital of Buffalo.

Ms. Curry has ample experience in the emergency department, where she was an RN and, most recently, the Emergency Department Nursing Director at Mount St. Mary's. She also served as Infection Control Coordinator at Mercy Hospital of Buffalo. In her current role, Ms. Curry leads the Nurse Managers of the inpatient nursing units, Emergency Department, ICU, House Supervisors and Cardiopulmonary Services to deliver excellent patient care.

Ms. Curry is well-respected by her colleagues due to her clinical knowledge, and empathic and approachable nature. She approaches situations with grace and sincerity and is always there to answer questions and offer support. She answered the calling not only to be a nurse, but as a leader in healthcare. This has been demonstrated through her quickly rising through the ranks within Catholic Health.

A Niagara County resident, Ms. Curry has special insight into the needs of Mount St. Mary's Hospital. She recognizes the needs of the Niagara County community, and couples those with her clinical experience to ensure associates are protected and patients are provided the best care possible. She is a key leader in the organization, delivering guidance and sound decision-making, setting a clear direction for Mount St. Mary's in Niagara County.

She is focused, flexible and adaptable, and rises to the occasion, especially in crisis. As an advocate for emergency management, Ms. Curry paved the way for a well-planned, effective community response during the COVID-19 pandemic. She has worked tirelessly, together with internal and external leadership, to lead safety and nursing care initiatives. She continues to work collaboratively during this unprecedented time, understanding that working side-by-side with community partners delivers the best possible healthcare.

Mount St. Mary's is blessed to have Ms. Curry as a leader and advocate for our hospital and our community.

Kadie Curry was selected as a 2020 Woman of Distinction honoree by Senator Robert G. Ort.
