

Earth day 2021

Earth day, Earth day should mean a lot to people. We do live on earth... People don't realize today how much the world makes and the beautiful circle of life. People don't realize the plants we have living on this earth today. People don't realize the animals that are living on this earth today. People don't realize earth is a place we call home and that we shouldn't take it for granted. We need to normalize making earth day a bigger day than it is. The earth deserves more of love than anything should. We shouldn't be taking earth for granted every single day of our life. Because even all the bad things in the world right now. Everything and everyone is pushing and fighting and helping to make it better again. We need to support environmental protection more. We had to make earth day because of uncontrollable pollution. When I found that out myself I gasped. We need to spread that the world is a beautiful place when its treated right. And right now in the world, We all know everything is falling apart and 2020 was a horrible year but we cannot let that stop us from making our home a better place. Happy Earth Day.
