

Sea Life!!!

By Sydney Clark

Have you ever thought where your trash could or will end up? One place it could end up is in the sea, ocean, or lake.

When trash ends up in the sea it can hurt or even kill lots of sea life. When sea life dies it is very sad. Do you want that to happen? Trash is one way they die. One way to stop letting trash into the sea is to recycle.

Another way is to turn your trash into art. You can donate your art to a museum. You can make art for Earth Day.

Also you can plant plants. Plants clean our air. The trees give us oxygen. Plants are beautiful.

As you can see our planet is dying. These are some things you can do to help. Hopefully we can learn from our mistakes.
