

Earth Day

Akiva Friedman

It is important to reduce, reuse and recycle so the earth is a healthy place. It also is important to use our earth's resources smartly so they don't run out. We should do our part by recycling, using our resources wisely.

You can reduce by buying a lot of things in bulk. Another way is to buy less things in general. Both of these things will reduce waste.

Reusing is also important. You could use glass plates instead of plastic. You could use metal water bottles. You could also use reusable bags at the grocery store.

Finally we all need to recycle too. One of the things you should recycle are milk cartons. Another thing you can recycle is paper. By recycling, reducing and reusing we could make the world a better place .
