

You can reuse, reduce, and recycle

For example, you can reduce your carbon footprint

By using your bicycle

You can reuse objects

To make such cool, beautiful things

Such as a hanging garden, or a seed bomb,

But maybe not something that sings

Recycling objects may sound hard,

You might ask, "What can I recycle?"

Certainly not styrofoam, bubble wrap, or grass from your yard

Instead you can recycle paper, plastic, cardboard, and many other things

This process can make a lot of people happy

Like when a plant finds water in a dry desert,

Or when a farmer finds that his seeds have grown into seedlings

Going through this process may take some time,
But this will give birth,
To a brand new,
Beautiful Earth!

The Earth is our home,
Without it, where would we live?
We should take care of it,
So, what can we give?

We can grow trees which will reduce the amount of carbon dioxide, a bad gas in the air

We can volunteer,
To help organizations make the world a better place,
We can help clean the ocean, to make it bright and clear

We all have to do our part,
In saving our home,

Like when a wildfire breaks out,
And all the firefighters do their part

These simple things,
Can make a lot change,
So I hope you will do your part,
And together we can rearrange the Earth's future
