

Reusing Our Garbage

Pollution is a very big problem in our world today. Some types of pollution is when cars produce smoke and steam into the air and it is bad for it. Another type is throwing away garbage that we can reuse to make more stuff out of it. It can get into the ocean and we don't want that. I have an idea to make the garbage useful and to protect the environment.

I think that we should use the garbage to power stuff. What I mean by this is that the garbage men could take the garbage to a special place that will turn it into eco-friendly oil. We could use this oil to power our cars and trucks in an eco-friendly way.

I think that this is a really good idea because if we could make oil that is eco-friendly then we could solve a lot of problems with pollution. I hope that you consider this Idea and if you do I hope that it will help with pollution.
