

Earth Day

Earth Day happens on April 22nd every year. We can help the Earth thrive by doing our little bit. Here are a few things that can be done to contribute to help the Earth.

Before you throw anything into the trash, think if it could be reused, recycled or reduced because a lot of pollution is caused because of this.

You should also save electricity because just turning off the lights for when it's not needed is really helpful for the environment.

Many people cut down trees causing deforestation, so you can plant more trees to fix this.

Many people hunt marine life. There is a powerful ecosystem in the ocean which requires all of them so this means if one of the species becomes extinct then there would be a lot of chaos in the ocean.

Earth is a magnificent place because it is the only planet that we know of that supports life. We need to treat the earth like we only have one chance. Earth is where our destinies are relying on so we need to take good care of it.

I feel so alive when I am in nature just like Earth, how it is at the exact place from the sun where life can be supported. If the trees, the wind or the animals would not be there I would feel super let down.

New Yorkers recycle only 17% of the total waste they make. Not many people recycle. Many people do wish cycling which means that they put lots of stuff in recycling bins hoping that it can be recycled but most of the stuff goes back to the landfills because it cannot be recycled.

New Yorkers throw around 12000 tons of trash everyday.
Many times people throw things that can be recycled .
Just recycling one aluminum can will then make 20 aluminum cans.
With recycling Earth's resources can be saved.

Recycling will help the Earth keep its shine.
We all have the same responsibility to protect the Earth. We all should stand together. This is where our true house is and it deserves to be protected.

So let's be more conscious about what we throw in the trash.
