

I think we could stop the pollution and the waste on earth by making a robot that picks up trash and burns it. The robot would move around the state and would be at least 16'5" in height and would hold lava in it to burn trash and pick up trash on the earth. I also think we could make rules that would save the earth, The rules would be no eating food near rivers, lakes, oceans and ponds. This would prevent any animals in the ponds from getting sick and spreading a virus that could kill us. I also think we can use metal utensal
