

I Started from Scratch

By Lily Lopez

The turtles happily munch on fresh seaweed while the birds fly gracefully not stuck in a tree.

The air tastes fresh, not dull and bitter because I spent the time picking pieces of litter.

I melt it all down and build it up, and now I have made some popular products.

I made plastic toy robots and the biggest TV's, and it's all from the plastic that's left unseen.